

How Can A Funny Lady Help Promote Your Healthcare?

For over 20 years, Lola Gillebaard has helped people recognize the power of humor and how to apply it to live a healthier, happier and more productive life.

By learning the value and power of using humor, individuals can strengthen their professional relationships and lighten up the workplace.

Lola's uplifting programs equip attendees with information and techniques that can be applied in the workplace, as well as in their personal lives.

Each entertaining and informative presentation is designed specifically to meet the needs of your organization.
